

“Super Taikyu Series”

The Top Endurance Race Series in Asia

What is the Super Taikyu Series?

The Super Taikyu Series is touring car endurance racing for commercially available vehicles, in which everyone is entitled to participate. It was launched in 1991 in Japan and marked its 25th anniversary in 2016, having been at the top of the participatory motorsports in Asia. In Japan, it is commonly known as “S-Tai” and has been loved by people for many years, and the growing number of drivers from neighboring Asian countries take part in it of late years. As endurance racing series developed in Japan, we plan to hold “24 hours of the Super Taikyu Series” in the near future at the Fuji International Speedway located at the foot of Mt. Fuji which has been registered as one of the World Heritage Sites.

Where is the Super Taikyu Series held?

Each year, the Super Taikyu Series is composed of 6 rounds at the major FIA Certified circuits in Japan.
